Matthew 7:7-11 NIV Ask, Seek, Knock
 7 “Ask and it will be given to you; seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to you. 8 For everyone who asks receives; the one who seeks finds; and to the one who knocks, the door will be opened. 9 “Which of you, if your son asks for bread, will give him a stone? 10 Or if he asks for a fish, will give him a snake? 11 If you, then, though you are evil, know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your Father in heaven give good gifts to those who ask him!

An excerpt from Our Daily Bread

Cleansed Completely

All of us have become like one who is unclean, and all our righteous acts are like filthy rags.

Isaiah 64:6

Recently, my wife and I were cleaning our house before having guests over. I noticed some dark stains on our white kitchen tile floor—the kind that required getting on my knees to scrub.

But I soon had a sinking realization: the more I scrubbed, the more I noticed other stains. Each stain I eliminated only made the others that much more obvious. Our kitchen floor suddenly seemed impossibly dirty. And with each moment, I realized, No matter how hard I work, I can never get this floor completely clean.

Scripture says something similar about self-cleansing—our best efforts at dealing with sin on our own always fall short. Seeming to despair of God’s people, the Israelites, ever experiencing God’s salvation (Isaiah 64:5), the prophet Isaiah wrote, “All of us have become like one who is unclean, and all our righteous acts are like filthy rags” (v. 6).

But Isaiah knew there is always hope through God’s goodness. So he prayed, “You, LORD, are our Father. We are the clay, you are the potter” (v. 8). He knew that God alone can cleanse what we cannot, until the deepest stains are “white as snow” (1:18).

We can't scrub away the smudges and smears of sin on our souls. Thankfully, we can receive salvation in the One whose sacrifice allows us to be cleansed completely (1 John 1:7).

By Adam R. Holz

Reflect and Pray

All of us have become like one who is unclean, and all our righteous acts are like filthy rags. Why is it hard to accept God's forgiveness? Why do you think you're tempted to try to deal with sin on your own?

Father, help me to rest in Your forgiveness instead of trying to earn what You've already freely given.

Scripture Insight

The potter-clay motif is an image used by the prophet Isaiah to depict the strained relationship God had with His people. This metaphor points to a sovereign Creator and submissive creature relationship. As clay, we're the intricate work of the Father's hand (Isaiah 64:8). Choosing to go our own way, we reject God's authority over our lives and "turn things upside down, as if the potter were thought to be like the clay!" (29:16). It's like the pot telling the potter what to do. Isaiah warned, "Woe to those who quarrel with their Maker" (45:9). As our Maker, He has every right to do what He pleases (vv. 10–12). Some sixty years after these words from Isaiah were written, the prophet Jeremiah went to a potter's house to give God's people this same message: "Like clay in the hand of the potter, so are you in my hand, Israel" (Jeremiah 18:6).
